A. News about OCPA and its Web Site/Nouvelles sur OCPA et sur son site internet

A.1 Final Report of the Task Force on Cultural Indicators Meeting (Nairobi, Kenya, 12 February 2005)

The aim of the meeting was to review the activities performed by the Task Force since its establishment in March 2004 on the occasion of the International Seminar held in Maputo and formulate conclusions and recommendations to be submitted to the subsequent OCPA Steering Committee meeting.

The Meeting's Final Report is now posted on the OCPA web site at http://ocpa.irmo.hr/activities/meetings/nairobi2005/Task_Force_Final_Report_2005.doc

A.2 Final Report of the OCPA Steering Committee Meeting (Nairobi, Kenya, 13 February 2005)

The Steering Committee examined and approved the report about the activities realized by the Observatory in 2004, and discussed the draft programme and budget for 2005 to be finalized by the Secretariat in the light of the decisions and recommendations of the meeting.

The meeting also examined the actions required by the establishment of OCPA as an international Pan African non-governmental organization following its official registration (Maputo, 9 December 2004). The Meeting's Final Report is now posted on the OCPA web site at http://ocpa.irmo.hr/activities/meetings/nairobi2005/Steering_Committee_Final_Report_2005.doc

B. Cultural events and projects in Africa

B.1 Launching Meeting of the ECOSOCC (Economic, Social and Cultural Council of the African Union)

ECOSOCC was launched on the occasion of a meeting held at the headquarters of the African Union in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, from 27 to 30 March 2005 with a view to promote continuous dialogue and forge strong partnerships between African people, namely between governments and all segments of the civil society, in particular women, the youth, children, the Diaspora, organized labour, the private sector and professional groups on issues concerning Africa and its future. Nobel Peace laureate Wangari Maathai was elected first president of the African Union's interim general assembly of the Economic, Social and Cultural Council.

Lancement du Conseil économique, social et culturel de l'Union Africaine, l'ECOSOCC

L'ECOSOCC a été lancé, lors d'une conférence tenue à Addis Abeba du 27 au 30 mars 2005. Il a pour objectif de renforcer le dialogue et de promouvoir les partenariats, notamment entre les gouvernements et toutes les couches de la société civile, en particulier les femmes, les jeunes, les enfants, la diaspora, les organisations de travailleurs, les groupes professionnels et le secteur privé, sur les problèmes intéressant le futur de l'Afrique. Wangari Maathai, lauréate du Prix Nobel de la paix, a été élue première présidente de l'Assemblée de l'ECOSOCC.

C.2 AFRICAN Regional Bureau of International Theatre Institute (ITI)

<http://www.iti-worldwide.org/pages/africa-a.htm>

The main objective of the Bureau is to promote

- Education and training opportunities for African performing artists;
- Mobility of artists and their works within the continent.

The African Regional Bureau of ITI is currently working on 4 major projects with African performing artists.

1/ CFRAV Centre for Training and Research on the Performing Arts (CFRAV) intended to become a tool for ITI in Africa for the training of artists and of teachers.

2/ Les Récréatiales, a theatre residency project, is a process designed to give stage work chronological pre-eminence over text, through workshops (writing drama, corporal expression, directing and acting techniques) as well as public presentations. These residencies also aim at active participation in training by actors and playwrights from all over Africa and to open new perspectives for work.

C.4 Soul Beat Africa - an online journal to foster communication in Africa

This site is a space for communicators practitioners, media makers, academics, researchers, and others interested people across Africa to share experiences, materials, strategic thinking and events, and to engage in discussion and debate. Twice a month, the "News" focus on special themes (Issue 36, 23 March 2005, is about Television in Africa).

Soul Beat Africa seeks to provide a forum for your ideas, stories and actions and to connect you to information that will be of use in your work. The issues, and trends we bring forward and the work of others we profile do not necessarily reflect the position or perspective of Soul Beat Africa or its partners. Instead they are examples and samples of the many voices and actions that make the field of communication for social change dynamic and hopefully add to all of our learning and understanding.

D. News, institutions, resources and events in other regions and countries

D.1 Route de l'esclavage aux Caraïbes: le peuplement d'origine africaine de Cuba a été majoritairement bantu

C'est la conclusion à laquelle est arrivée l'historien cubain, Zoé Cremé Ramos, dans une étude qui vient d'être, à juste titre, rééditée à La Havane, sous le titre « Pesquisaje sobre la Procedencia de los Esclavos en la Jurisdicción de Cuba entre 1792-1838 ».

Essai historique proposant plusieurs éléments nouveaux, scellé sous la forme d'une brochure d'une quarantaine de pages, cette recherche n'a permis d'inventorier, sur près d'un demi-siècle, pour la région de Santiago-de-Cuba, que, exactement, 7.236 esclaves, nés dans l'île ou venus des îles voisines de Haïti et de Jamaïque, ou encore arrivés directement des côtes africaines.

D. 3 European Conference of African Studies (June 29-July 3 2005, London, UK)

This event is organised by Africa-Europe Group For Interdisciplinary Studies (AEGIS), with around 90 panels addressing topics across the entire disciplinary range of African Studies. According to the organisers, the conference represents a new stage in the development of AEGIS which was founded in 1991 as a network of university centres of research on Africa within the European Union. This event is seen as a further step in the process of achieving the organisational resources needed for a European organisation of Africanists. Source: Soul Beat Africa

D.4 Salon du livre africain et des diasporas africaines – Paris, 03/02/2005 30/04/2005

Le Salon aura lieu dans le cadre du projet «Livres d'Afrique» lequel aspire à présenter la production littéraire africaine, les maisons d'éditions africaines et africanistes et à réfléchir aux problématiques qui touchent au livre africain. Il sera organisé au Palais de l'UNESCO. Son objectif est d'emmener tous les types de publics, africains, africanistes, passionnés de littérature ou tout simplement désireux de s'ouvrir à d'autres horizons, à (re)découvrir la richesse de la littérature africaine.

Les organisateurs entendent montrer à tous que l'Afrique reste le siège d'un bouillonnement intellectuel intense, berceau de 4 prix Nobel de littérature et inspireurs de nombreux auteurs africains et non africains. La fin de la journée sera l'occasion de célébrer et récompenser les jeunes auteurs africains qui auront participé, en véritable relève de la littérature africaine, au concours littéraire organisé, sous le regard d'un jury exceptionnel et des personnalités qui font le monde de la francophonie.

Ethiopia: Traditional Ethiopian Values, 1:Land and Agriculture

Nigeria [opinion]: Art for National Unity

Nigeria, a mosaic of various cultures, heterogeneous customs, traditions, ethnic and linguistic colourations, is an artificial creation of the British Empire. The colonial experience, coming at the heels of its creation, left in its trail a sour heritage of ethnocentricity, and divisiveness thereby bringing about ripples and waves of mutual distrust, intolerance and suspicious. These negative ...
